Implementation Challenges and Way Forward for Construction and Infrastructure Sector during the 12th Five Year Plan (2012-17) 30th-31st January & 1st February 2013

With a view to providing a focus on the emerging trends in International Arbitration, the Construction Industry Arbitration Council (CIAC) under the patronage of Construction Industry Development Council, India (CIDC) will be organizing an 'International Seminar on Institutional Arbitration & Online Dispute Resolution Techniques' on 31st January, 2013 at New Delhi. This Seminar will deliberate on the Institutional Arbitration, Online Dispute Resolution Techniques, Legal Framework for PPPs in India and will also focus on emerging best practices in this domain as per suggested topics below.

Impediments in Acceptance of Institutional Arbitration in India

Promoting India as a Neutral/Preferred Venue for International Commercial Arbitration

Enforcement of Foreign Awards in India – Analyzing the recent decision of the Supreme Court in BALCO's case and the ramifications thereof

Post-Award Delays – a fair comment on the sad state of affairs

From ADR to ODR – An introduction to the Online Dispute Resolution

Legal Issues in the context of Online Dispute Resolution – Indian Scenario

Public Private Partnerships - Boosting Economic Growth in India

A Definite Legal Framework for PPPs in India – taking a cue from the UNCITRAL Model Legislative Provisions on Privately Financed Infrastructure Projects (Model Provisions), 2003

Institutional Arbitration and ODR present opportunities for the Indian Infrastructure and construction sectors to resolve disputes in a speedy and cost effective manner leading to unlocking of idle capital that may be gainfully deployed for effective project delivery. While ODR can benefit a host of SMEs in this sector, Institutional Arbitration can help bring immense benefits to the whole process of effective dispute resolution and companies can get a binding decision in a time bound manner. It will also help the Government's and the Judiciary's mandate for speedy resolution of commercial disputes. The growing emphasis on PPP mode for faster creation of infrastructure necessitates a sound legal framework for governing such contract.

The seminar aims to explore the embedded opportunities and emerging trends in ODR & Institutional Arbitration and map the challenges ahead for drafting a legal framework for the PPPs in the Infrastructure and Construction Sector.

We invite you to participate in the Seminar through Sponsorships, Paper Presentations, Case Studies and Exhibition Space!
